SPECIAL DAYS AT FAIR

ANNOUNCED BY SECRETARY DENT-CHAIRMAN FOR EACH ONE.

Kentucky State Fair, September 9-14, Has Set Aside Days for Various Interests.

While every day during the week of the State Fair, September 9-14, will be one on which the people of Kentucky and the surrounding states will be given the glad hand by the management. Secretary James L. Dent, in keeping with past customs, has set apart each day and night as special ones on which residents of certain sections, members of various fraternal and secret societies and their friends can attend the fair and feel more at home on account of such association. Fred W. Kessler, an official State Fair booster, has been named as general chairman of the Special Days and Nights Committee, and he has associated with him as special chairman for each day and night well-known business and professional men, guaranteeing that those who attend the fair on any of the special days or nights as a compliment to the various organizations will be well cared for. Following is a list of special days and nights:

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 9. Governor's Day—Educational—School Children's Day.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 10. Farmers' Day—Good Roads Day.

BAD ROADS AFFECT MARKET.

Why the City Resident Gains as Much as the Farmer.

ROAD IMPROVEMENT.

Peeds That Would Teach the Cities if the Highways Were Good. Archibald Back and Go Into the Hands of the Speculator.

In many respects there is a considerable amount of evidence in the different phases of our physique edition. This is more apparent in our country roads than almost any other, says the Motor News. The system of road building has been family as well as costly. Much expense has been put upon the numerous roads year after year, and still there are seasons when great roads are in an indifferent condition for general purposes. This is not the fault of purpose, but of mode of treatment. Much of course is due to the necessities of the country and the constant demand for labor and cost to making farms, building bridges and otherwise controlling what may properly be regarded of prime importance. As the country advances in other respects the necessity for good roads becomes more insistent. A few thoughts upon this subject from a prominent citizen of Michigan may not be amiss. "If the numerous roads of the country were brought to a condition that would make it easier to market their products at all seasons of the year, the cost of living in town and city would be greatly lessened, and discontent among the people and the operations of industrial concerns would largely increase. If it did not entirely disappear. Why and how are the two questions which must be answered."

"Present road conditions compel farmers to rush up their produce to market as soon as harvested and when roads are at their best, since by waiting a convenient time they may not get there at all because of bad roads. This naturally causes the number of trucking less, to the great detriment of the farmer and without any appreciable benefit to the consumer, because the average family in town or city buys only in small quantities, once, say, a dray or a week's supply. What is the result?"

No one could understand Lee's odd behavior, for no one then knew he was false. In rage at the rebuke, he wrote two insulting letters to Washington, who promptly ordered him arrested. A court-martial suspended him from active service for a year. In rage, he retired to a mountain hat, where, for months, he lived like a hermit.

As his year of suspension drew to an end, Lee wrote an abiding letter to Congress, and was at once discharged from the army. He went to live on an estate he had bought in the Shenandoah Valley. In 1782 he visited Philadelphia, where he fell ill and died.

In addition to free transportation, lodging and meals at the fair grounds will be furnished. The boys will be met at the railway station in Louisville by competent guides, who will take them to the fair grounds, at which place they will be under the immediate supervision of Prof. T. R. Bryant, of the Agricultural college.

Improved Educational Conditions From an Investment Standpoint

By JOHN B. MCCRAN, Chairman Educational Committee, Louisville Commercial Club

STUDYING the educational situation in the state, I am more and more impressed with the absolute necessity for a radical change in our viewpoint concerning the subject. We have been viewing the school rather as a necessary evil, an expense to be kept at the minimum of cost. The logical result has been largely attained—cheap houses, cheap ground, cheap equipment and in too many cases cheap teachers, cheap trustees, cheap county boards and cheap county superintendents.

In fact, so long has this policy prevailed that we have dwarfed everything—principals, our schools, even our educators, and most of all ourselves, the average citizens. The whole outfit is a cheap and inadequate thing for the twentieth century. OUR SLIPSHOD AND CHAOTIC SYSTEM, IF SYSTEM IT CAN BE CALLED, POSITIVELY ANSWERS FAIRLY WELL THE NEEDS OF FORTY OR FIFTY YEARS AGO, but everything else has moved tremendously within that time and moved with the greatest celerity and momentum.

With our schools here in Kentucky we have practically stood still, refusing to invoke some other mysterious power to supplement our indifference and neglect. Not so with other more prosperous and progressive states. Truly recognizing the value and importance of their children, with enlightened zeal and intelligence their tendency has been to pour all the money into their schools that could be judiciously used, looking upon it as a wise, business-like proposition, a most profitable investment, and so it has proved, states younger and more favorably situated, with really inferior natural resources, surpassing us in material wealth two and three fold.

BEFORE WE CAN MAKE THE NEEDED AND DESIRED PROGRESS WE MUST GET THE VIEWPOINT THAT IT IS NOT ONLY OUR HIGH AND HOLY DUTY, BUT MOST PROFITABLE, TO SEE OUR CHILDREN AND THEIR SCHOOLS FROM THE INVESTMENT SIDE AND PROVIDE GENEROUSLY THE FINANCIAL AID THAT IS IMMEDIATELY NEEDED.

Furthermore, we must awaken out of our apathy and see that this money is used to the best advantage and not frittered away by incompetency or graft. We have been furnishing two and a half to three million dollars per annum to us schools for a month of years.

WE HAVE ALLOWED THE INTEREST OF OUR CHILDREN TO DRIFT INTO POLITICS AND INTO CONFUSION. IT IS HIGH TIME TO CORRECT THIS.

The system of road building has been family as well as costly.

Much expense has been put upon the numerous roads year after year, and still there are seasons when great roads are in an indifferent condition for general purposes.

This is not the fault of purpose, but of mode of treatment. Much of course is due to the necessities of the country and the constant demand for labor and cost to making farms, building bridges and otherwise controlling what may properly be regarded of prime importance. As the country advances in other respects the necessity for good roads becomes more insistent.

A few thoughts upon this subject from a prominent citizen of Michigan may not be amiss. "If the numerous roads of the country were brought to a condition that would make it easier to market their products at all seasons of the year, the cost of living in town and city would be greatly lessened, and discontent among the people and the operations of industrial concerns would largely increase. If it did not entirely disappear. Why and how are the two questions which must be answered?"

We all know what happened to Kipling's hero who "tried to hustle the east" but that does not deter Gov. Hiram Johnson from attempting the task.

APPROXIMATELY 26,000,000,000 songs will be eligible to vote in the United States next November, including the men who are too busy to make up their minds.

The United States has approximately 22,000,000 telephones in the world, and the average earnings of each telephone amounted to $52. This shows that talk is not longer cheap.

Boston is also thinking of a municipal market to discourage the high cost of living. Boston people would like to do something with their wages besides buying beans and cold fish.

MR. CHALIN, who is, as you may remember, the nominee of the prohibition party for president, says that he expects to poll 1,000,000 votes. The expecting is particularly good all around this year.

PERHAPS the banks of the country will welcome the McAdoo plan, under which they are asked to receive and forward campaign contributions, as being a relief from making contributions themselves.

Congress passed the parcels post measure, and the law will be put in effect as soon as the details can be worked out. It is thought this will prove one of the best things given the people in a long while, effecting great savings, serving everyone, whether on a railroad or not, and will at the same time be a source of income to the government.

By a recent order of the Postmaster General all first and second class postoffices in the country will be closed on Sunday, and only special delivery letters will be handled. For some time there has been a lessening of the work done on Sunday, and it has been found that the service has not suffered; this last order meets the approval of most of the people, and it is likely that in time the order will be extended to include postoffices of all classes.

M. Louis Dor, the French delegate to the International Institute of Agriculture in Rome, and vice president of the Institute, has published a pamphlet reviewing the history of this remarkable body, and preceding the lines of its future development. Fifty countries now adhere to the convention of 1905, and contribute a total of $10,000,000 a year to the maintenance of the Institute, while the King of Italy, from his private means, contributes $60,000, and has given the Institute a splendid building in Rome. Besides the world wide crop reporting service—which has been the dominant feature of the enterprise from the beginning—many other lines of work are carried out on a vast scale. Probably one of the most important is the collection and abstracting of agricultural literature from every corner of the world. The voluminous publications issued by the Institute during the last two or three years include, besides its polyglot periodicals, many exhaustive reports on special subjects, e. g., the crop reporting systems of the different countries, the organization of agricultural meteorology, statistics of health insurance, etc., etc.

The RECORD expects property for this year the increase of $1 million barrels for commercial purposes. Last year in July they said it would be about twenty nine million barrels, and it fell a little short.

of thirty millions, so accurate has crop prediction become. Nor do the experts stop with forecasts for this year. They estimate that in the wonderful apple raising region of the northwest, the crop this year will be about eighteen thousand carloads of a hundred and sixty barrels to the car; and that the present rate of increase and development will result in forty to fifty thousand carloads in 1913, and a hundred and twenty to a hundred and forty thousand car loads in 1920.

Capt. Henry B. Grant, grand secretary of the Masonic Lodge of Kentucky, died at his home in Louisville early Monday morning, after an illness of two weeks from pneumonia. He was one of Kentucky's most noted citizens, active and prominent in many avenues, and he will be widely missed.

Catarrh.

It is not necessary to describe at length the symptoms of nasal catarrh, every one is quite familiar with them. Catarrh may vary greatly in severity from the occasional "cold in the head" which comes and passes, and is regarded by many people as an inevitable experience of the winter, to a serious chronic and protracted catarrh, which is often called incurable, but which can be either cured or anchored by proper treatment.

When the ordinary catarrhal cold does not yield to treatment and disappear, but threatens to run on indefinitely, a specialist should be asked to make a thorough examination, not only of the nose and throat but of ears and teeth as well. Septic reinfection may occur from any of these sources; a discharging middle ear or decaying teeth may prolong a nasal catarrh indefinitely. Permanent catarrh is also caused by incorrect habits of living, especially by insufficient ventilation, particularly in the sleeping room. Most sufferers think their catarrh is due to "exposure," by which they mean too much fresh air; but if they would breathe all the fresh air they can get, avoid crowded rooms, dust, and stuffiness, and learn to sleep with wide open windows, they would be surprised at the powers of resistance they would develop.

But it must be remembered that normal in structure and condition will have fewer colds, even breathing bad air, than one with obstructed passages will have in spite of all the good air in the world. Fresh air is of no use to a person who cannot draw it in.

Victims of catarrh would do well to use only paper handkerchiefs. They are cheap and light, and can be destroyed after each use, a precaution which is not only a matter of justice to others in the family, but a real safeguard to the patient, who otherwise is in constant danger of reinfection.

United States Produces Two-Fifths of World's Output of Coal.

The United States has held first place among the coal-producing countries of the world since 1899, when this country supplanted Great Britain. In 1911 the total world's production of coal amounted to approximately 1,302,500,000 short tons, of which the United States contributed 496,221,168 tons, or 38 per cent, according to the United States Geological Survey. In the 12 years from 1899 to 1911 the production of the United States has increased over 250 per cent; from 1899 to 1911 Great Britain has increased its output about 50 per cent, from 198,146,731 to 301,521,195 tons. The United States in 1911 produced almost 500,000,000 tons or 63 per cent more than Great Britain in 1911; Germany's production of coal and lignite in 1899 was 93,640,500 short tons; in 1911 it was 258,223,763 tons, an increase of over 175 per cent. The combined production of Great Britain and Germany in 1911 was 562,744,958 short tons, which exceeded the output of the United States by only 66,500,000 tons, or 13.2 per cent. These three countries—United States, Great Britain, and Germany, produce more than 80 per cent of the world's total supply of coal.

THE LINE OF THE SPINE

shown above is the curved line which truthfully presents to your eye the condition of your spine if you use a sewing machine.

The reason for this is the family sewing machine as ordinarily constructed is altogether wrong. You cannot sit straight in your chair while sewing, and the back is not straight and square as you should, and see if you can sew on your machine; you can't. The needle is 1/2 inch from the center, which causes the back to roll over, and you have to twist your body to the left. This twist calls for a wrench and strain upon all the delicate tissues, and strains the heart, lungs, spleen, liver, kidneys, bowels and nerves, and resulting in SIDE NEEDLE SPINE.

If it were possible for a growing child to operate an ordinary sewing machine it would injure him. The curvature of its spine would twist and warp, its vital organs would be injured to such an extent as to produce nervous disorders.

In factories where sewing machines are used, the work is always directly central with the operator, otherwise they could not stand the strain of the twist of the body and continue to work.

THE STANDARD CENTRAL NEEDLE MACHINE is a new type of family sewing machine, as a health saver and preventer of doctors' bills.

In this machine the needle is central with the worker—directly over the center of the treadle. To use it calls for no twist of the spine, it strains nothing, and the vital organs and consequent torture of the nerves.

With THE STANDARD CENTRAL NEEDLE MACHINE a woman is safe in using it all day and every day, without it she is not.

Compare the two pictures—positions taken from life and death cases, you will have THE SIDE NEEDLE SPINE or THE CENTRAL NEEDLE SPINE.

We have printed a valuable book, "A GUIDE IN THE SHIRE" which is yours FREE. We send it to every intelligent woman, will want it and will thank us for bringing it to her attention.

It goes into the subject of sewing machine construction thoroughly and explains how and why THE STANDARD CENTRAL NEEDLE SEWING MACHINE is vital to the health of woman and growing girls, and how it is to buy. If you value your health and the health of your children, you will send for a copy at once—no obligation. It is FREE. A postal will bring it by return mail.

Dies From Stroke On Head.

Will Cash died Friday at his home near Earles from the effects of being struck on the head by John Jordan several days before. It is reported that Cash had been circulating a vile slander on a sister of Jordan, and when the two men met they engaged in a difficulty, in which Cash struck Jordan over the head with a cane. Jordan procured a fence picket and again met Cash, when the trouble was renewed, and Cash was dealt a blow on the head by Jordan, inflicting dangerous injury, and resulting in death. Jordan waived an examining trial Monday morning, and was released on bond of $1,000 to await the action of the grand jury. Jordan has the support of the people of his community, where he bears a good reputation, and has some years provided for his orphaned brothers and sisters. Cash was a quarrelsome man, it is said, and was frequently in trouble.

Tri-State Good Roads Meeting.

Prominent persons from Kentucky, Indiana and Tennessee who are interested in good roads will hold a meeting at Mammoth Cave Oct. 4 and 5, at which national figures will make addresses. In addition to the purpose of the convention, there will be social features, a barbecue being served to all on the last day. Everyone is urged to attend, as this is a movement which should have the hearty support of all. It is predicted that the attendance will be heavy, and that at this meeting interest will be aroused that will put forces at work immediately toward the providing of good roads in the three states represented.

Considerable interest is being aroused in the election of a permanent night watchman, which will be done at the meeting of the council next Monday night. There are two or three applicants.

Circuit court begins Monday, and the docket is about up to the average.

Mr. M. B. McDonald, wife and mother are spending some time at Dawson Springs, where they are receiving benefit from the water. Mr. McDonald has been suffering from a stomach trouble, but is improving nicely, and hopes to be entirely relieved of the ailment.

Mr. S. J. Landes suffered from the visits of some prowler a few nights ago who visited his corn patch and took about a hundred ears of sweet yellow corn. Mr. Landes offers a reward of $25 for the arrest and conviction of the offender.

Mr. W. H. O'Bryan has announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for Sheriff of Hopkins county. Mr. O'Bryan has a host of friends here and over the county who hope he may win the favor of his party, as he is a man who is popular, and would prove an efficient officer.

Death of Mr. Jessie Rice.

Muhlenberg lost another pioneer citizen when Mr. Jessie Rice in his 72nd year, died at his home near Friendship last Sunday night, chronic asthma being the cause. Deceased was a well known and generally beloved man, and his long life had been an exemplary one, he being a consistent member of the Cumberland Presbyterian church. His wife, one son and two daughters survive. Funeral services were conducted at Friendship Monday afternoon, and interment was made in the cemetery there.

Mr. Barney Shutt left the first of the week for East St. Louis, and expects to enter railroad service.

A Call To The Ministers.

At a mass meeting of the temperance people of Muhlenberg county, held at the Y. M. C. A. building in Greenville August 25th, 1912, it was decided that Sunday, Sept. the 8th, be set apart as a Great Temperance Rally Day in all the churches of the county, both white and colored, and that all ministers of every denomination be requested to preach twice that day on the subject of temperance. Therefore the Muhlenberg County Temperance League urges that all men, women and children unite with the ministers in making this a great day of victory for temperance in the country.

G. T. ANDERSON, Secy.

At last the school girls and boys of the county have a chance to show what they have learned in other things than books. The County Exhibit which is to be made this fall, in Greenville, in connection with the Boys Corn Show will be a great benefit not only to the school children but also to the people of the county.

Mr. J. W. Mitchell last Saturday brought to this office a selection of fine strawberries gathered from vines that have been bearing since May, and which he says promise to produce for some weeks still. This is a new variety of plant, and this is the first year of bearing, and the owner is highly pleased with the returns.

Just a month now until the vote will be taken on the whisky question.

Truant school children are to have a hard time of it this year, as the new law requiring attendance is to be rigidly enforced.

Fish, oysters, celery at J. E. Coombs & Co. Saturday.

The crowd in town to county court last Monday was rather small, as many persons will be compelled to be here next Monday when circuit court begins, and so would not attend both days.

Dr. W. & J. Anderson, M. D., and son have returned from a visit of some weeks in Hampton, Va.

Inflammatory Rheumatism.

Acute inflammatory rheumatism attacks people of all ages and conditions, and is dreaded not only because of the intense pain that accompanies it, but also because it often leaves behind it a permanently injured heart. This complication is especially frequent in children. Severe pain, with redness and swelling of the joints, make the diagnosis easy in most cases of inflammatory rheumatism in adults but in young children these symptoms may be too slight to be observed, while at the same time the heart is suffering serious damage.

So called "growing pains" may be the beginning of an attack of acute rheumatism; or a child although it does not give up its play, may complain that there is pain in the soles of its feet when it stands. If these pains are accompanied by the least redness or swelling of any joint, and if there is also fever, the diagnosis of inflammatory rheumatism is clear.

The child should be put at once to bed, and kept there all through the acute stage of the disease. In this way the attack may sometimes be shortened, and the shorter it is the less danger there is of the heart being affected. The medical treatment of the case should be in the hands of a competent physician. Fortunately, there are today remedies for the quick control of the inflammation that were unknown a few years ago, when it sometimes ran a course of many weeks.

When the season closes Greenville will have added some several miles more to its concrete pavements, as contracts have been made for vast stretches lately.

Notice To A. S. of E. Members.

As this has been a remarkable year and the farmers have made an unusual effort to plant a tremendous crop of tobacco and owing to the rain I find by traveling over the county that it will be impossible under the most favorable circumstances for the farmer to reach the barn with more than fifty per cent of last year's yield. Of this it reports be true we will have a greater per cent, of the crop pooled than ever before.

The July term of the County union ordered the books to close the first of September. And I will give fair warning to all parties both members and outsiders that there will be no tobacco pooled after that date. It has been customary in the last few years for men on the outside to raise the buyer by threatening to pool if their price is not given them. But this will not be done this year. I would be glad for all parties to pay their dues and fees and be reinstated before Sept. 1st. Recent years it has been said the law of supply and demand governed the market. If that be true we ought to be able to get a good price for this year's crop.

Hoping the farmer will house what is left of the 1912 crop I am yours for profitable prices.

Kill the Fly. Why? Because—Flies breed in nature and other flies walk and feed on excreta and sputa from people ill with typhoid fever, tuberculosis, diarrhea, al affections and many other diseases.

One fly can carry and may deposit on our food 6,000,000 bacteria.

One fly in one shower may produce normally 103,312,500,000,000 descendants.

A fly is an enemy to health, the health of our children, the health of our community!

A fly cannot develop from the egg in less than eight days; therefore, if we clean up everything thoroughly every week, and keep all manure screened, there need be no flies.

Will you help in the campaign against the pest?

HOT FLASHES.

Women in middle age often complain of hot flashes. They are at that stage of life—when their delicate organism needs a tonic and helping-hand which only Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription can give them. Many women suffer needlessly from grief to womanhood and from manhood to old age—with headache, dizziness or headache. A woman often becomes sleepless, nervous, "broken-down," irritable and feels tired from morning to night. When pains and aches rack the womanly system at frequent intervals, ask your neighbor about Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

Mrs. J. Turner, of 211 G. Benton Street, Baltimore, Md., says: "I wrote you about nine months ago, telling you of my condition. I have a fine baby girl—who weighed nine pounds when born. She is my third child and the strongest of them all. My suffering was only for two hours. I took several bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and one of Dr. Pierce's Smart-Wool. I never had a cold—fever before—I took your medicine. I was surprised how well I felt—couldn't eat—was always hungry, and never had a tick stomach. The nurse who was with me said the medicine was wonderful because I got along so nicely after having had so much trouble before. She intends to recommend it to all her suffering patients. Everybody is astonished at me because I only weighed 102 pounds before and now I weigh 133. I have had several ladies come to me and ask about Dr. Pierce's medicine. I am willing to recommend it to all who suffer and want help. If any want information I will be glad to tell it to them."
